From Public Life.

LOSES HIS SEAT ON BENCH

After Being Found Guilty on Five of the Thirteen Charges Against Him Judge Robert W. Archbald of the Commerce Court Is Sentenced by Senator Bacon in Accordance With a Resolution Adopted Authorizing a Full Penalty.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Robert W. Archbald of Scranton, Pa., for twenty-nine years a judge upon the Pennsylvania state bench, the federal district bench and in the United States commerce court, adjudged guilty by the United States senate of high crimes and misdemeanors, was stripped of his office and forever disqualified from holding positions of public honor or public trust.

Sentence was imposed by Senator Bacon of Georgia, the presiding officer, after the senate, by a vote of 59 to 35, had upheld a resolution offered by Senator O'Gorman of New York authorizing the full penalty provided by the Constitution.

"The senate therefore do order and decree," said Senator Bacon, "and it is hereby adjudged that the respondent, Robert W. Archbald, circuit judge for the United States for the Third judicial circuit, and designated to serve in the commerce court, be, and he is hereby, removed from office, and that he be and is hereby forever disqualified to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States."

Sentence Operative at Once.

The sentence of the senate became operative at once and directions were given that the president and house of representatives be notified immediately of the verdict and the punishment imposed.

The conviction and judgment came as the conclusion of the impeachment trial that has been pending in the senate since last summer on charges that Judge Archbald had been guilty of misconduct and misbehavior as a judge and that he had corruptly used his judicial power to further the private interests of himself and his friends in the acquisition of coal land properties in Pennsylvania.

Upon five of the thirteen charges brought against him by the house of representatives Judge Archbald was found guilty. Upon the other eight the senate voted him not guilty, the majority in three cases being against him, but failing of the two-thirds necessary for conviction. Any one of the five verdicts of guilty was enough to bring about the punishment imposed upon him.

Archbald Goes to Scranton.

In a little committee room off the gallery floor, behind a guarded door, Judge Archbald, his wife and his son, Hugh, sat as the senate voted upon the charges against him. The first vote of conviction was carried to him by his son from the gallery. After sentence had been imposed on him Judge Archbald and his family left the Capitol for their home in Scranton.

"I have always known that I have done no wrong and the vote of no one makes it otherwise," was his only comment on the senate's action.

Although no debate was permitted during the progress of the voting many senators asked to be excused from voting on certain charges because they did not believe the senate had authority to take up acts committed by Judge Archbald before he was appointed to the commerce court; or because they believed the acts that might be characterized as "misbehavior" were not such as to constitute "high crimes and misdemeanors" involving the extreme penalty of the Constitution.

The following are the charges and how the vote stood on each:

Guilty on First Charge.

First.—That Judge Archbald used his judicial position to influence officers of the Erie railroad to grant him an option on the Katydill culm dump; guilty; 63 to 5.

Second.—That he attempted to settle a case before him between the Marion Coal company and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad on a basis that would have given him a fee; not guilty; 46 to 25.

Third.—That he attempted to influence the Lehigh railroad to relinquish a lease on Packer No. 3 so he might lease it on favorable terms from the Girard estate; guilty; 60 to 11.

Fourth.—That he secured from Attorney Helm Bruce of the Louisville and Nashville railroad private letters and arguments to sustain an opinion in favor of the railroad in a suit before the commerce court; guilty; 52 to 20.

Fifth.—That he attempted to influence officials of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company to grant a lease on coal property to Frederick Warnke, for which services Warnke paid him $100; guilty; 66 to 6.

Sixth.—That he tried to influence officials of the Lehigh Valley railroad to buy an interest in a coal property belonging to the Everhard heirs; not guilty; 24 to 45.

Seventh.—That he settled an insurance suit in favor of W. W. Rissinger; not guilty; 36 to 29.

Eighth.—That he tried to have a $500 note discounted by C. G. and W. P. Boland; not guilty; 42 to 22.

Ninth.—That he permitted the same note to be presented to C. H. Vanstorch, a Scranton lawyer, who had just obtained a favorable decision in a case before him, and that Vanstorch discounted it; not guilty; 23 to 39.

Tenth.—That he accepted a trip to Europe at the expense of Henry W. Cannon, a director in several railroads; not guilty; 11 to 51.

Eleventh.—That he accepted, at the beginning of this trip, a purse of $500 raised by Scranton attorneys practicing before him; not guilty; 11 to 51.

Twelfth.—That he appointed J. B. Woodward, a railroad attorney, as jury commissioner in a Pennsylvania district; not guilty; 19 to 46.

Thirteenth.—That he tried to obtain credit from persons interested in suits in his court; that he carried on a general business in culm dumps for speculation and profit and unjustly influenced railroad officials; guilty; 42 to 20.

WORKING HARD TO GAIN PEACE

Sir Edward Grey and Ambassadors Are Busy.

ALLIES STAND THEIR GROUND

Definite Decision Regarding War or Its Termination Seems to Rest With the Turks, as the Balkan Envoys Will Never Consent to an Agreement That Does Not Include Cession of Adrianople.

London, Jan. 14.—Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, and the ambassadors of the powers are making valiant efforts to bring about a settlement between Turkey and the Balkan allies in the direction of peace. They have had additional interviews with Dr. Danef and Rechad Pasha, heads of the Bulgarian and Turkish delegations respectively, advising moderation on both sides and warning them that either party, if through obstinacy it should plunge Europe into war again, would incur a heavy weight of disapproval.

The meeting of the ambassadors was the longest yet held. They discussed the note to be presented to the porte, aiming to meet every possible argument likely to be raised by the Turks.

The general impression among the plenipotentiaries is that the definite decision on war or peace must come from Constantinople. Whatever concessions and compromises the Balkan league may make the allies will never consent to the renunciation of Adrianople, which the Turks make the sine qua non of peace.

Much is hoped for here from Kiamil Pasha, the grand vizier, a man of great ability and extraordinary influence. He is perhaps the most powerful among the Ottoman statesmen. He has succeeded in restoring the good relations between Turkey and the triple entente and thus far has been able to prevent the powers from taking an active anti-Turkish attitude.

While progress toward peace is at a standstill here the Balkan delegates are endeavoring to obtain advantages for themselves in the partition of the conquered territory. The kings of Bulgaria, Greece and Montenegro are working actively among their relatives and friends on the other thrones of Europe to influence the powers in favor of the claims of their countries. As the moment for a decision approaches their efforts become more strenuous. It is known they have sent special envoys to some of the capitals to support the work of their regular diplomats.

The Turkish delegates have not yet taken steps to carry out their threats to leave London. Diplomats consider that it would be a great breach of etiquette for any of the delegates to go before another meeting of the conference was held, if only for the purpose of formally ending the negotiations.

It might be construed as a slight to England, which is entertaining the conference, and to the British foreign secretary, as honorary president.

YONKERS TO BUY RAILWAY

Common Council Adopts Plan to End Street Car Strike.

New York, Jan. 14.—The common council of Yonkers adopted a resolution authorizing the city to purchase the Yonkers Railroad company and operate it.

The bill authorizing the purchase will be introduced in the legislature. The property is estimated to be worth $5,000,000.

The action follows the unsuccessful efforts of the authorities to end the strike of the street railway employees that has tied up the service in Yonkers since Jan. 1.

Postoffice Measure.

Washington, Jan. 14.—An amendment to the postoffice appropriation bill to annul executive orders placing assistant postmasters and clerks in first class offices and all fourth class postmasters under the classified service was adopted by the house sitting as a committee of the whole.

The vote was 49 to 18. All Republicans refraining from voting and many Democrats absenting themselves from the chamber. Republican leaders had cautioned members on their side to let the Democrats settle the matter among themselves.

This amendment will be a storm center when the appropriation bill is reported to the house from the committee of the whole. Many Democrats oppose it, but Representative Cullip of Indiana, who offered the amendment, and others denounce President Taft's executive orders as partisan actions to perpetuate in office Republicans appointed under the spoils system.

Militant suffragettes claim that their threat of a revival of the riots in Parliament square were responsible for the government's change of heart.

Boston, Jan. 14.—Congressman John W. Weeks of Newton received the unanimous support of the Republican majority in the legislature for the junior senatorship of Massachusetts, now held by W. HOWLING FARCE
BY CONGRESSMENConsideration of Bills For Millions Very Lax.

ONLY 20 OUT OF 400 ATTEND

Whereas a Hundred Representatives Are Required For Quorum on Appropriations, Sometimes Less Than Committee Reporting Bill Are Present. Need to Force Attendance.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 14.—[Special.]—It will not do much good to point out that consideration of most bills in the house of representatives is a howling farce. I am speaking of appropriation bills carrying many millions of dollars for the support of the government. The rules require that these bills be considered in "the committee of the whole" It is a high sounding name and is meant to include the entire membership of the house.

For many years it has been provided that 100 members of the nearly 400 shall constitute a quorum of the committee of the whole—a clear subversion of the constitution. But that is not the worst of it. Scarcely more than twenty or thirty members actually attend and give attention to the consideration of these appropriation bills. Oftentimes less than the membership of the committee which reported the bill are in the house and paying attention.

Should Make Them Stay.

There should be some method by which members should be made to stay in the house and attend to business. The next move should be in the direction of cutting off useless talk. Much of this kind of talk would be cut off if the appropriation committees would simply report appropriation bills and not try to do a lot of legislating and spending of money needlessly.

If members would stay in the house and attend to business they would cure one of the evils of extravagance, of which much complaint is made. They would do more than the economy commission, which has added another bureau of useless employees to the government payroll.

Getting It In Some Form.

Jim Mann was discussing upon the fact that if claims get old enough they may be paid. He referred to propositions to pay French spoliation claims and others of ancient origin.

"Then there is hope that we may get pay for our niggers," remarked Major Stoffer, who as a youth contributed his share toward the Confederacy and destruction of the invading army. "I have been looking up the records and find that our family had quite a number of slaves."

"You may have to wait until you are no longer quite so sprightly," replied Mann, "but the south is getting its money back in the class of claims we are now allowing. We pay claims for goods and stores taken by the Federal troops and for losses sustained by loyal people of the south. If this keeps up it will soon be shown that there were no disloyal people in the south."

Bailey's Highest Compliment.

"The highest compliment Senator Bailey received on the day he last appeared in the senate," remarked a man in the gallery, "was the fact that Senator Root remained in his seat for four hours and listened to every word the Texan uttered. That was a tribute few men receive."

Moore and Murdock.

Vic Murdock came out of the house one day dressed in the latest fashion, his clothes fitting his fine form like a glove and equal to anything Jim Ham Lewis ever wore. He bumped into a group talking to J. Hampton Moore. The Pennsylvania man surveyed the "getup" of the man from Kansas and stroked the clothes as he made comments.

"Vic," he said, "those are very fine clothes—very fine, indeed. Why, the first thing we know you will be patronizing a tailor!"

His First Offense.

Chairman Pujo of the banking and currency committee is not particularly fascinated with his job as investigator. "I never was chairman of an investigating committee before," he remarked sadly the other day when some proposition of a rather difficult nature came up for him to decide. And now there are two investigations going on in his committee, one of the "money trust" and the other in an effort to find some method of finding out how to pass the Aldrich bill under another name. Congressman Glass of Virginia, who will be chairman of the committee in the next session, is trying, with a number of high priced experts, to see how he can bring this about.

"Eve of Hope" For Cuba.

General McIntyre, who is now chief of the bureau of insular affairs, was asked about the complications in Cuba, which to many people means final intervention and the end of the lone star republic. "It looks to me as if it was the 'eve of hope' for Cuba," was his reply. "The country is emerging from a siege of misgovernment, but it will have a president of the people's choice who is pledged to reforms, and I for one believe there is the dawning of a better day for that island."

ELECTORS CHOOSE
WILSON PRESIDENTMeet in State Capitols and For-

Washington, Jan. 14.—Electors in forty-eight states met and formally elected Woodrow Wilson to the presidency and Thomas R. Marshall to the vice presidency of the United States. Returns prepared by the electors chosen at the polls last November are now on their way by mail to Washington to the president pro tempore of the senate.

Another set of these returns will be brought in person by an elector chosen from each state, to be canvassed Feb. 12 in joint session of the senate and the house, when Governor Wilson will formally be proclaimed president.

In two of the states, Utah and Vermont, four votes each were cast for President Taft for president and Nicholas Murray Butler for vice president, the latter having been named by the Republican national committee to succeed the late James S. Sherman on the Republican ticket.

Representative Steenerson Creates

Washington, Jan. 14.—Representative Halvor Steenerson of Minnesota distinguished himself in the house by offering an amendment to the post-office appropriation bill curtailing use of the mails by newspapers, magazines and periodicals that carry advertisements for dealers in smoking and chewing tobacco, cigars, cigarettes and snuff. Mr. Steenerson convulsed the house when he declared that snuff was one of the most pernicious of habit forming compounds. Speaking generally he charged that tobacco in its various forms did about as much damage to health as intoxicating liquors.

"It is a more insidious habit," he said.

The house listened to Mr. Steenerson with great interest, but refused to accept his amendment.

London, Jan. 14.—The British government is to pay to the National Telephone company of the United Kingdom the sum of $52,576,320 for its property, according to a decision reached by the railway and canal commission sitting as a court of arbitration. The whole of the telephone system in the British Isles passed into the hands of the state on Jan. 1, 1912. The National Telephone company originally asked $105,000,000 for its interests, but during the seventy-three-day trial just ended this claim was reduced by many millions.

Governor Wilson Comments on Presidential Election.

WILL CHOOSE PROGRESSIVES

New Jersey Executive Interprets His Success as the Distinct Expression of the Progressive Impulses of the Nation and Declares His Belief That There Will Be No Division in Democratic Ranks.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 14.—Governor Wilson, for whom the majority of the states in the Union officially cast their electoral votes for the presidency, proclaimed in a speech to the New Jersey presidential electors that he interpreted his election as the distinct expression of the progressive impulses of the country.

"I shall not be acting as a partisan when I pick out progressives, and only progressives, to aid me," the governor said in analyzing the spirit that he said had produced his election.

The governor predicted no division in the councils of the Democratic party, but foresaw solidarity.

"Those Democrats," he said, "who hitherto have been slow to align themselves with the progressive banner of the party are everywhere yielding. The business men of the country, too, are swinging around to an unselfish and broader view of their duties to the people."

The speech was delivered at a luncheon given for the electors by the Democratic state committee before the official ballot was cast. It was the last Governor Wilson is scheduled to make before his inauguration.

Asserts People Have Spoken.

"Some men have been slow to observe," he said, "but the majority of us have seen, that the people of the United States have taken a definite choice. I happen to be one of the instruments through whom that choice is expressed. The people of the United States have turned their faces in a definite direction and any party, any man, who does not go with them in that direction they will reject—and they ought to reject."

"Therefore, in looking forward to the responsibilities that I am about to assume, I am acting in a representative capacity. I am bidden to interpret as well as I can the purposes of the people of the United States and to act, so far as my choice determines the action, only through the instrumentality of persons who also represent that choice. I have no liberty in the matter. I have given bonds, my sacred honor is involved, and nothing more could be involved. Therefore, I shall not be acting as a partisan when I pick out progressives and only progressives. I shall be acting as a representative of the people of this great country and then it is a matter of supreme pleasure to me to find in every direction, as I turn about from one group of men to another, that men's minds and men's consciences and men's purposes are yielding to that great impulse that now moves the whole people of the United States."

"I do not foresee any serious divisions of counsel in the Democratic party as a national body. On the contrary, I find every evidence of solidarity."

Washington, Jan. 14.—Attorney General Wickersham, it is understood, has decided to attack further the so called hard coal trust in civil proceedings under the Sherman anti-trust law.

The new suit, it is said, will be directed against the so called minor combinations of coal carrying railroads and coal companies in the Pennsylvania fields.

SENATE IMPOSES
HARSH SENTENCEForever Bars Judge Archbald
From Public Life.

LOSES HIS SEAT ON BENCH

After Being Found Guilty on Five of the Thirteen Charges Against Him Judge Robert W. Archbald of the Commerce Court is Sentenced by Senator Bacon in Accordance With a Resolution Adopted Authorizing Full Penalty.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Robert W. Archbald of Scranton, Pa., for twenty-nine years a judge upon the Pennsylvania state bench, the federal district bench and in the United States commerce court, adjudged guilty by the United States senate of high crimes and misdemeanors, was stripped of his office and forever disqualified from holding positions of public honor or public trust.

Sentence was imposed by Senator Bacon of Georgia, the presiding officer, after the senate, by a vote of 32 to 35, had upheld a resolution offered by Senator O'Gorman of New York authorizing the full penalty provided by the Constitution.

"The senate therefore do order and decree," said Senator Bacon, "and it is hereby adjudged that the respondent, Robert W. Archbald, circuit judge for the United States for the third judicial circuit, and designated to serve in the commerce court, be, and he is hereby, removed from office, and that he be and is hereby forever disqualified to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit under the United States."

Sentence Operative at Once.

The sentence of the senate became operative at once and directions were given that the president and house of representatives be notified immediately of the verdict and the punishment imposed.

The conviction and judgment came as the conclusion of the impeachment trial that has been pending in the senate since last summer on charges that Judge Archbald had been guilty of misconduct and misbehavior as a judge and that he had corruptly used his judicial power to further the private interests of himself and his friends in the acquisition of coal land properties in Pennsylvania.

Upon five of the thirteen charges brought against him by the house of representatives Judge Archbald was found guilty. Upon the other eight the senate voted him not guilty, the majority in three cases being against him, but failing of the two-thirds necessary for conviction. Any one of the five verdicts of guilty was enough to bring about the punishment imposed upon him.

Archbald Goes to Scranton.

In a little committee room off the gallery floor, behind a guarded door, Judge Archbald, his wife and his son, Hugh, sat as the senate voted upon the charges against him. The first vote of conviction was carried to him by his son from the gallery. After sentence had been imposed on him Judge Archbald and his family left the Capitol for their home in Scranton.

"I have always known that I have done no wrong and the vote of no one makes it otherwise," was his only comment on the senate's action.

Although no debate was permitted during the progress of the voting many senators asked to be excused from voting on certain charges because they did not believe the senate had authority to take up acts committed by Judge Archbald before he was appointed to the commerce court; or because they believed the acts that might be characterized as "misbehavior" were not such as to constitute "high crimes and misdemeanors" involving the extreme penalty of the Constitution.

The following are the charges and how the vote stood on each:

Guilty on First Charge.

First—That Judge Archbald used his judicial position to influence officers of the Erie railroad to grant him an option on the Katydid culm dump; guilty; 63 to 5.

Second—That he attempted to settle a case before him between the Marlon Coal company and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad on a basis that would have given him a fee; not guilty; 46 to 25.

Third—That he attempted to influence the Lehigh railroad to relinquish a lease on Packer No. 3 so he might lease it on favorable terms from the Girard estate; guilty; 60 to 11.

Fourth—That he secured from Attorney Helm Bruce of the Louisville and Nashville railroad private letters and arguments to sustain an opinion in favor of the railroad in a suit before the commerce court; guilty; 52 to 20.

Fifth—That he attempted to influence officials of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company to grant a lease on coal property to Frederick Warnke, for which services Warnke paid him $100; guilty; 66 to 6.

Sixth—That he tried to influence officials of the Lehigh Valley railroad to buy an interest in a coal property belonging to the Everhard heirs; not guilty; 24 to 45.

Seventh—That he settled an insurance suit in favor of W. W. Rissin.

London, Jan. 14.—Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, and the ambassadors of the powers are making valiant efforts to bring about a settlement between Turkey and the Balkan allies in the direction of peace. They have had additional interviews with Dr. Daneff and Rechad Pasha, heads of the Bulgarian and Turkish delegations respectively, advising moderation on both sides and warning them that either party, if through obstinacy it should plunge Europe into war again, would incur a heavy weight of disapproval.

The meeting of the ambassadors was the longest yet held. They discussed the note to be presented to the Porte, aiming to meet every possible argument likely to be raised by the Turks.

The general impression among the plenipotentiaries is that the definite decision on war or peace must come from Constantinople. Whatever concessions and compromises the Balkan league may make the allies will never consent to the renunciation of Adrianople, which the Turks make the sine qua non of peace.

Much is hoped for here from Kiam Pasha, the grand vizier, a man of great ability and extraordinary influence. He is perhaps the most powerful among the Ottoman statesmen. He has succeeded in restoring the good relations between Turkey and the triple entente and thus far has been able to prevent the powers from taking an active anti-Turkish attitude.

While progress toward peace is at a standstill here the Balkan delegates are endeavoring to obtain advantages for themselves in the partition of the conquered territory. The kings of Bulgaria, Greece and Montenegro are working actively among their relatives and friends on the other thrones of Europe to influence the powers in favor of the claims of their countries. As the moment for a decision approaches their efforts become more strenuous. It is known they have sent special envoys to some of the capitals to support the work of their regular diplomats.

The Turkish delegates have not yet taken steps to carry out their threats to leave London. Diplomats consider that it would be a great breach of etiquette for any of the delegates to go before another meeting of the conference was held, if only for the purpose of formally ending the negotiations.

It might be construed as a slight to England, which is entertaining the conference, and to the British foreign secretary, as honorary president.

YONKERS TO BUY RAILWAY

Common Council Adopts Plan to End Street Car Strike.

New York, Jan. 14.—The common council of Yonkers adopted a resolution authorizing the city to purchase the Yonkers Railroad company and operate it.

The bill authorizing the purchase will be introduced in the legislature. The property is estimated to be worth $5,000,000.

The action follows the unsuccessful efforts of the authorities to end the strike of the street railway employees that has tied up the service in Yonkers since Jan. 1.

HOWLING FARCE
BY CONGRESSMENConsideration of Bills For Millions Very Lax.

ONLY 20 OUT OF 400 ATTEND

Whereas a Hundred Representatives Are Required For Quorum on Appropriations, Sometimes Less Than Committee Reporting Bill Are Present, Need to Force Attendance.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Jan. 14.—[Special.]—It will not do much good to point out that consideration of most bills in the house of representatives is a howling farce. I am speaking of appropriation bills carrying many millions of dollars for the support of the government. The rules require that these bills be considered in "the committee of the whole house on the state of the Union." It is a high sounding name and is meant to include the entire membership of the house.

For many years it has been provided that 100 members of the nearly 400 shall constitute a quorum of the committee of the whole house—a clear subversion of the constitution. But that is not the worst of it. Scarcely more than twenty or thirty members actually attend and give attention to the consideration of these appropriation bills. Oftentimes less than the membership of the committee which reported the bill are in the house and paying attention.

Should Make Them Stay.

There should be some method by which members should be made to stay in the house and attend to business. The next move should be in the direction of cutting off useless talk. Much of this kind of talk would be cut off if the appropriation committees would simply report appropriation bills and not try to do a lot of legislating and spending of money needlessly.

If members would stay in the house and attend to business they would cure one of the evils of extravagance, of which much complaint is made. They would do more than the economy commission, which has added another bureau of useless employees to the government payroll.

Getting It In Some Form.

Jim Mann was discoursing upon the fact that if claims get old enough they may be paid. He referred to propositions to pay French spoliation claims and others of ancient origin.

"Then there is hope that we may get pay for our niggers," remarked Major Stoffer, who as a youth contributed his share toward the Confederacy and destruction of the invading army. "I have been looking up the records and find that our family had quite a number of slaves."

"You may have to wait until you are no longer quite so sprightly," replied Mann, "but the south is getting its money back in the class of claims we are now allowing. We pay claims for goods and stores taken by the Federal troops and for losses sustained by loyal people of the south. If this keeps up it will soon be shown that there were no disloyal people in the south."

Bailey's Highest Compliment.

Moore and Murdoch.

Vic Murdoch came out of the house one day dressed in the latest fashion, his clothes fitting his fine form like a glove and equal to anything Jim Ham Lewis ever wore. He bumped into a group talking to J. Hampton Moore. The Pennsylvania man surveyed the "getup" of the man from Kansas and stroked the clothes as he made comments.

His First Offense.

Chairman Pajo of the banking and currency committee is not particularly fussy with his job as investigator. "I never was chairman of an investigating committee before," he remarked sadly the other day when some proposition of a rather difficult nature came up for him to decide. And now there are two investigations going on in his committee, one of the "money trust" and the other in an effort to find some method of finding out how to pass the Aldrich bill under another name. Congressman Glass of Virginia, who will be chairman of the committee in the next session, is trying, with a number of high priced experts, to see how he can bring this about.

"Eve of Hope" For Cuba.

General McIntyre, who is now chief of the bureau of insular affairs, was asked about the complications in Cuba, which to many people means final intervention and the end of the lone star republic. "It looks to me as if it was the 'eve of hope' for Cuba," was his reply. "The country is emerging from a stage of misgovernment, but it will have a president of the people's choice who is pledged to reforms, and I for one believe there is the dawning of a better day for that island."

ELECTORS CHOOSE
WILSON PRESIDENT

Meet in State Capitols and Formally Cast Ballots.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Electors in forty-eight states met and formally elected Woodrow Wilson to the presidency and Thomas R. Marshall to the vice presidency of the United States. Returns prepared by the electors chosen at the polls last November are now on their way by mail to Washington to the president pro tempore of the senate.

Another set of these returns will be brought in person by an elector chosen from each state, to be canvassed Feb. 12 in joint session of the senate and the house, when Governor Wilson will formally be proclaimed president.

In two of the states, Utah and Vermont, four votes each were cast for President Taft for president and Nicholas Murray Butler for vice president, the latter having been named by the Republican national committee to succeed the late James S. Sherman on the Republican ticket.

CRITICISES TOBACCO ADS

Representative Steenerson Creates Merriment in House.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Representative Halvor Steenerson of Minnesota distinguished himself in the house by offering an amendment to the post-office appropriation bill curtailing use of the mails by newspapers, magazines and periodicals that carry advertisements for dealers in smoking and chewing tobacco, cigars, cigarettes and snuff. Mr. Steenerson convulsed the house when he declared that snuff was one of the most pernicious of habit forming compounds. Speaking generally he charged that tobacco in its various forms did about as much damage to health as intoxicating liquors.

"It is a more insidious habit," he said. The house listened to Mr. Steenerson with great interest, but refused to accept his amendment.

WILSON SELECTS HIS ESCORT

New Jersey Cavalry in Place of Honor at Inaugural.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Major General Leonard Wood, U. S. A., chief marshal of the inauguration day parade, has received word from President Elect Wilson that the latter has determined upon the Essex troop of New Jersey cavalry as his personal escort on March 4.

The parade managers received Governor Wilson's decision with acclaim, because they had been besieged with requests for the honor from various military and semi-military organizations.

LESS FRUIT COMING EAST

California Shipment 10,000 Cars Instead of Expected 40,000.

Los Angeles, Jan. 14.—Instead of the estimated forty odd thousand cars of citrus fruit it is probable, according to fruit and railroad experts, that not more than 10,000 cars of oranges and lemons will be shipped East when the frost bitten crops are gathered.

Ten days will elapse before the aggregate value of the combined crop will be known.

According to members of the family Jadwin and his wife quarreled ten days ago and the young husband left the house in a rage.

Ohio River Causes Damage Running Into Thousands.

Cincinnati, Jan. 14.—After doing thousands of dollars' worth of damage, as well as causing about 3,000 families to abandon their homes, the flood of the Ohio river at this point came almost to a standstill here.

The river is rising at the rate of 1 foot every four hours, but river men think the crest of the flood has been reached and that the worst is over.

$52,576,320 FOR TELEPHONES

British Government Decides on Sum to Pay for Property.

London, Jan. 14.—The British government is to pay to the National Telephone company of the United Kingdom the sum of $52,576,320 for its property, according to a decision reached by the railway and canal commission sitting as a court of arbitration. The whole of the telephone system in the British Isles passed into the hands of the state on Jan. 1, 1912. The National Telephone company originally asked $105,000,000 for its interests, but during the seventy-three-day trial just ended this claim was reduced by many millions.

Pleasantry Proves Fatal.

Governor Wilson Comments on Presidential Election.

WILL CHOOSE PROGRESSIVES

New Jersey Executive Interprets His Success as the Distinct Expression of the Progressive Impulse of the Nation and Declares His Belief That There Will Be No Division in Democratic Ranks.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 14.—Governor Wilson, for whom the majority of the states in the Union officially cast their electoral votes for the presidency, proclaimed in a speech to the New Jersey presidential electors that he interpreted his election as the distinct expression of the progressive impulses of the country.

"I shall not be acting as a partisan when I pick out progressives, and only progressives, to aid me," the governor said in analyzing the spirit that he said had produced his election.

The governor predicted no division in the councils of the Democratic party, but foresaw solidarity.

"Those Democrats," he said, "who hitherto have been slow to align themselves with the progressive banner of the party are everywhere yielding. The business men of the country, too, are swinging around to an unselfish and broader view of their duties to the people."

The speech was delivered at a luncheon given for the electors by the Democratic state committee before the official ballot was cast. It was the last Governor Wilson is scheduled to make before his inauguration.

Asserts People Have Spoken.

"Some men have been slow to observe," he said, "but the majority of us have seen, that the people of the United States have taken a definite choice. I happen to be one of the instruments through whom that choice is expressed. The people of the United States have turned their faces in a definite direction and any party, any man, who does not go with them in that direction they will reject—and they ought to reject."

"Therefore, in looking forward to the responsibilities that I am about to assume, I am acting in a representative capacity. I am bidden to interpret as well as I can the purposes of the people of the United States and to act, so far as my choice determines the action, only through the instrumentality of persons who also represent that choice. I have no liberty in the matter, I have given bonds, my sacred honor is involved, and nothing more could be involved."

"Therefore, I shall not be acting as a partisan when I pick out progressives and only progressives. I shall be acting as a representative of the people of this great country and then it is a matter of supreme pleasure to me to find in every direction, as I turn about from one group of men to another, that men's minds and men's consciences and men's impulses are yielding to that great impulse that now moves the whole people of the United States."

"I do not foresee any serious divisions of counsel in the Democratic party as a national body. On the contrary, I find every evidence of solidarity."

RENEWS WAR ON COAL TRUST

Wickersham Decides to Bring Civil Proceedings.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Attorney General Wickersham, it is understood, has decided to attack further the so called hard coal trust in civil proceedings under the Sherman anti-trust law.

This was the result of a conference here between the attorney general and James C. McReynolds of New York, who was the government's counsel in the anthracite trust suit decided by the supreme court a few weeks ago.

The new suit, it is said, will be directed against the so called mining combinations of coal carrying railroads and coal companies in the Pennsylvania fields.

Pastor Russell at Washington Temple, Discusses Second Text Quoted on Union Depot Portals—Millennium Is Beginning, He Avers—Greater Blessings to Follow Shortly.

Washington, D. C., January 12.— Pastor Russell preached this afternoon at the Temple, corner 13th Street and New York Avenue, to a large congregation.
He made the rather startling declaration that the Millennium is already here; that chronology proves that we have been living under some of its blessings for the past thirty-eight years; and that our modern conveniences and progress are attributable to the beginning of the rolling away of the stone, and the substitution of the Divine blessing.

The Pastor said that the reign of Messiah for a thousand years not only will blind Satan and hinder his further deception of mankind, but will also bring light, knowledge, illumination, to every corner of the earth. He pointed out the beginning of these blessings as already with us; but they are only the faint dawnings of the greater light which will flood the world, when the Sun of Righteousness, Emmanuel's Kingdom, shall be manifested.

The speaker went on to say that immediately before us is a terrific storm which will convulse the present order of things—social, financial, political and religious. The momentary chaos will yield to the Prince of Peace, who will then take to Himself His great power and reign. He will say to the billowy waves of trouble, "Peace, be still," and there will be a calm, even as was illustrated on the Sea of Galilee.
Pastor Russell showed that the storm of trouble which will precede the establishment of Messiah's Kingdom will be the natural result of the operation of the laws of Justice. This principle always operates along the line of cause and effect. Humanity are not using the wonderful blessings of the present as they should. Selfishness prevails amongst rich and poor. The earth's abundant supply for the needs of all is being hoarded, because the natural heart is full of selfishness.

God will allow selfishness to lead on to its inevitable result, and thus will demonstrate to mankind the sinfulness of sin, selfishness, meanness, and the beauty of holiness, righteousness, harmony with God.

"The Desert Shall Blossom."

The Pastor then called attention to Isaiah 35, the first verse of which declares, "The desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose." He showed that irrigation is literally fulfilling this prophecy and bringing about marvelous results. Our Government is co-operating with our intelligent fellow-citizens to reclaim what was once supposed to be worthless land.

A similar work of reclamation is going on in Arabia. Shortly the land of the "Arabian Nights" will realize in a natural way changes far more wonderful than those of the fairy tales which entranced our childish imaginations. The great Sahara Desert, also, has been examined by engineers, who have ascertained that much of it lies below sea level. At comparatively small cost it can be inundated and brought to a high state of cultivation.
The speaker also said that the Scriptures prophesy that the Dead Sea will one day be connected with the ocean.

Pastor Russell then applied Isaiah 35:3 to our day, and declared that he is trying to carry out its commands.
The Scriptures show that before the world can receive its share of blessings, the Church of Christ must first be gathered and changed to spirit beings by the First Resurrection.

After this has been accomplished, mankind will receive earthly blessings through the Messianic Kingdom. These will surpass anything which humanity has ever dreamed.

Then he showed that Jesus' miracles were merely illustrations of the work of His Second Advent. During the Millennium, our Lord and His Church will remove not only physical blindness, deafness, lameness, etc., but also human weaknesses and frailties resulting from the fall of Adam. What a new aspect earth will present when sin, sickness, sorrow and death will forever have passed away!

"A Highway Shall Be There."

The context mentions a Highway of Holiness to be established. This will distinctly differ from the broad road and the narrow way. Everything will be removed that will hinder human progress back to perfection.

The reward at the end of the way will be very different from that given to those who now walk the narrow way of self-sacrifice. Adam was a man, not a heavenly being. God changes not. He made Adam king over earth, with dominion over his creatures. God's purposes are the same today as in the beginning.

Christ died to redeem humanity. In due time, all will awake from the sleep of death to an opportunity to return to perfection as human beings.

Made For Concealment.

Stick insects, which are so called because of their resemblance to dry sticks, have two forelegs, which they fold over their eyes when disturbed and evidently think that in so doing they are lost to view. The eggs of these insects take over six months to hatch. They are only one-tenth of an inch in their widest part, yet an insect which at hatching is three-quarters of an inch in length is packed into them.
The stick insects destroy the weaklings by eating their legs.

Foils a Foul Plot

When a shameful plot exists between liver and bowels to cause distress by refusing to act, take Dr.
King's New Life Pills, and end such abuse of your system. They gently compel right action of stomach, liver and bowels, and restore your health and all good feelings. 25c at Hats at Table.

It was the correct thing in the seventeenth century for men to wear their hats at table. "The Rules of Civility, or Certain Ways of Deportment," published in 1672, gives minute directions.
Supposing "a person of quality de-clains you to dine with him," it is prescribed that "when the person invited is sit he must keep himself covered, till the rest sit down and the person of quality has put on his hat. If the person of honor drinks a health to you you must be sure to be uncovered. If he speaks to you, you must likewise be uncovered till you have answered him. If one rises from the table before the rest he must pull off his hat."

He Guessed Wrong.

If somebody says that your poetry is no good, don't worry. Great bards have been underestimated at all times.
When Milton's "Paradise Lost" was published the poet Waller wrote: "The old blind schoolmaster, John Milton, hath published a tedious poem on the fall of man. If its length be not considered a merit it has none."—Ex-

PARTOR CAR ON ST. PAUL TRAIN

Gasoline Car for Range and Summer Resorts—Committee Sees Vice-President Hannaford

Following an appointment arranged for by George D. LaBar, the committee of prominent Brainerd business men met with and talked over the local railroad situation with Second Vice-President Hannaford at the general offices of the company in St. Paul on Monday afternoon.

The Brainerd delegation included Judge C. A. Allbright, George D. LaBar, Dr. J. L. Camp, Con O'Brien, H. F. Michael, O. A. Peterson and Fred H. Gruenhagen.

The committee, well supplied with maps and figures and statistics, stated its case in a frank manner and was given the utmost attention by Mr. Hannaford. He appeared greatly interested and said all the matters broached would be taken up at an early date with the other officials of the road at a conference called for that purpose.

The committee, in a convincing manner, showed what things Brainerd desired, things which would be of material advantage to this city and whose installation would also react in a beneficial manner on the company.

The first point was the installation of gasoline car service to reach the mining towns on the Cuyuna iron range, giving more frequent service to these points and to the summer resorts on the Minnesota & International railway contiguous to Brainerd.

The second point was a new depot in Brainerd. Does Brainerd want a new depot?

Older than the railway itself is the venerable pile which has decorated the center of Brainerd for full 40 years or more. Built of pine timbers and boards hauled by ox teams from St. Cloud, designed by men now long since dead, full of historical romance but sadly lacking the requirements of an up to date town like Brainerd, that old depot has been the tie which bound Brainerd to the past. It may seem like an act of iconoclastic vandalism to break up the old depot and replace it with a modern structure of yellow brick like Staples possesses, but not a tear will be shed in Brainerd when the old hulk is torn down and replaced with an imposing brick building.

Every room is full of history, of the dim and dusty past. But Brainerd can't go on forever looking at the unsightly and inconvenient old junk house, folding its hands and waiting for some cataclysm of nature to give us a new depot. The request of the Brainerd committee that Monday afternoon struck a responsive chord which will vibrate in the breast of every man, woman and child who reads this. By all means give us a depot and give it to us quick.

Another thing asked for was the installation of parlor car service on the St. Paul train. This would be a good innovation and would certainly be well patronized. In many cases during the summer when tourist travel is heavy, ladies are compelled to take half of the smoker in order to find seating room.

Brainerd's committee has acted well and wisely and the citizens will now await the results.

HILMER A. WILSON PRESIDENT

Eight Members Belong at Present Who Meet at 1316 East Norwood Street

The Brainerd Motorcycle club has been organized by eight devotees of the wheel and the meetings of the organization are held at 1316 Norwood street, Southeast Brainerd.

At the first election of officers Hilmer A. Wilson was elected president, Art Nykanen, secretary-treasurer. Eight riders are charter members and they include the officers and Art Olson, Oscar Swanson, Chris Peterson, Theodore Miller, William L. Englund and Albert Gronquist.

Wilson rides a five horsepower, two speed Minneapolis motorcycle. Nykanen has a nine horsepower Sears. Art Olson has a three horsepower Wagner and Oscar Swanson a four horsepower Wagner. Chris Peterson and Theodore Miller have four horsepower Harley-Davidsons. William L. Englund's is a four horsepower Reading Standard while Albert Gronquist possesses a four horsepower Marsh.

It is estimated there are 18 riders in the city and an effort will be made to have them all join the club. During the summer races will be planned as well as club tours. Pennants will be attached to the machines and visits made to other towns which will have no trouble in ascertaining the identity of the riders when they catch a glimpse of the Brainerd pennants. The club also intends to give occasional dances and thus keep its name before the public in the winter months when riding is not of the best.

The Brainerd Motorcycle club is the first of the kind in Brainerd and it will no doubt be a successful institution.

BUSH SIGNS WITH CONNIE MACK

JOINS CLUB AT ST. LOUIS FEB. 25

From St. Louis the Athletics go to San Antonio, Texas for their Spring Practice

Leslie Bush, who was given a try-out in two games by the Philadelphia Athletics last year, has been signed at a good four figure salary for 1913 by Connie Mack, manager of the A's.

The Brainerd boy will report at St. Louis on February 25th and there meet the team on its way to San Antonio, Texas, where they will take up their spring training practice.

Bush made good in the two games he was tried out last year, making a good showing against Columbus. In playing against New York Bush endeavored to show at once what he could do in all lines and besides pounding the cover off the ball he pitched eight innings. Weakened by heavy batting the New Yorkers fell on to him in the eighth inning and hit him freely.

Connie Mack, in interviews with sporting writers at Milwaukee and other points, professed his faith in Bush and said he was a comer as a pitcher. There may be some criticism in Brainerd but they should realize that it is a most trying experience to spring a young pitcher from the bushes at the end of a season against a club of experienced players and ask him to fit like a cog in the gearing of the Athletic machine when he had been with them but a few days.

Bush has made good last year or there would have been no contract from Connie Mack this season. Brainerd believes in Bush and the boys here know he will make good. Some day this year, when Bush pitches in Chicago and some holiday will permit it, the fans of Brainerd will take the Brainerd city band and descend upon the "Wind City" and see Bush pitch and win a game. Before and after the game there will be a parade and Chicago will hear all about Brainerd and know this town is on the baseball map. It will be the first time in baseball history that a man had a special train of home folks come to town to see him put the smoke ball across the plate and the Lord knows every Brainerd man will pray that the kid wins.

Bender, a former Brainerd boy, will again pitch with the Athletics and taking it all in all, this town will be some town in the baseball world.

BOUCK NOT ON THAT JOB

Representative Bouck Informs the St. Cloud Journal-Press that He is Not After Lindbergh

The Dispatch copied an item from the down river paper a few days ago that has called forth a denial from the Royalton representative and the Journal-Press says: "Hon. C. W. Bouck, member of the legislature from Morrison county, informs the Journal-Press that he is not going gunning for Congressman Lindbergh, as was intimated in a legislative note printed in this paper recently, and which has been making the rounds of the state press. He says he will stand for a square deal on re-appointment and will try to get the best possible district for his constituents. In this same connection we notice that one of Lindbergh's lieutenants at Little Falls broke into print and claimed that Bouck is entitled to no credit for the election of a Little Falls man to a good position in the house. Mr. Bouck says he did everything possible to secure the election of this gentleman and is pleased at his victory. This may be accepted as evidence that some of the Lindbergh men were not any too friendly to Bouck in the campaign, and it has been claimed that the election of a democratic member from Little Falls was due to the support he received from Lindbergh's friends. It may be an injustice to charge any of this mixup to the congressman, who has a reputation of being content to look after his own political fortunes, in which he has been remarkably successful, and lets the other fellows do the same. The Journal-Press is at peace with all the world, and it would like to see everybody else happy. Section Foreman Simonson and a Track Laborer on Soo Line Hurt Near Cuyuna

NEW ST. LOUIS HOTEL OPENS

Cuyuna Commercial Club Favors Installation of Northern Pacific Gasoline Car

Cuyuna, Minn., January 14—Section Foreman John Simonson and six workmen were derailed on the Soo Line driving a handcar which ran into an open switch Saturday afternoon while the men were returning from work. Mr. Simonson was quite badly bruised, not enabling him to work for at least two months. Another of the workmen was also somewhat bruised about the head. A new section boss took charge of the Soo work here Monday morning until Mr. Simonson will again be able to be out.

Cuyuna people duly showed their appreciation of Guy Ramsay's efforts to give Cuyuna an up to date hotel by liberally patronizing his establishment on Sunday, the day on which the St. Louis hotel was formally dedicated. This commodious hotel is already nearly filled with roomers and it is a foregone conclusion that Mr. Ramsay will continue to be successful.

In a communication to the Brainerd Dispatch, E. W. Zingg, editor of the "Cuyuna Range Miner" of Cuyuna, says: "I am glad to note the interest that the Brainerd Commercial club is manifesting in a Northern Pacific gasoline car and I sincerely hope that they will continue in their efforts until some better system of transportation to your city is inaugurated, as it would surely give all prospective parties a better opportunity to reach our towns."

A NEW DEPOT FOR BRAINERD

Committee of Prominent Brainerd Business Men Ask N. P. Ry. For This Improvement

PARLOR CAR ON ST. PAUL TRAIN

Gasoline Car for Range and Summer Resorts—Committee Sees Vice-President Hannaford

Following an appointment arranged for by George D. LaBar, the committee of prominent Brainerd business men met with and talked over the local railroad situation with Second Vice-President Hannaford at the general offices of the company in St. Paul on Monday afternoon.

The Brainerd delegation included Judge C. A. Allbright, George D. LaBar, Dr. J. L. Camp, Con O'Brien, H. F. Michael, O. A. Peterson and Fred H. Gruenhagen.

The committee, well supplied with maps and figures and statistics, stated its case in a frank manner and was given the utmost attention by Mr. Hannaford. He appeared greatly interested and said all the matters broached would be taken up at an early date with the other officials of the road at a conference called for that purpose.

The committee, in a convincing manner, showed what things Brainerd desired, things which would be of material advantage to this city and whose installation would also react in a beneficial manner on the company.

The first point was the installation of gasoline car service to reach the mining towns on the Cuyuna iron range, giving more frequent service to these points and to the summer resorts on the Minnesota & International railway contiguous to Brainerd.

The second point was a new depot in Brainerd. Does Brainerd want a new depot?

Older than the railway itself is the venerable pile which has decorated the center of Brainerd for full 40 years or more. Built of pine timbers and boards hauled by ox teams from St. Cloud, designed by men now long since dead, full of historical romance but sadly lacking the requirements of an up to date town like Brainerd, that old depot has been the tie which bound Brainerd to the past. It may seem like an act of iconoclastic vandalism to break up the old depot and replace it with a modern structure of yellow brick like Staples possesses, but not a tear will be shed in Brainerd when the old hulk is torn down and replaced with an imposing brick building.

Every room is full of history, of the dim and dusty past. But Brainerd can't go on forever looking at the unsightly and inconvenient old junk house, folding its hands and waiting for some cataclysm of nature to give us a new depot. The request of the Brainerd committee that Monday afternoon struck a responsive chord which will vibrate in the breast of every man, woman and child who reads this. By all means give us a depot and give it to us quick.

Another thing asked for was the installation of parlor car service on the St. Paul train. This would be a good innovation and would certainly be well patronized. In many cases during the summer when tourist travel is heavy, ladies are compelled to take half of the smoker in order to find seating room.

Brainerd's committee has acted well and wisely and the citizens will now await the results.

The Brainerd Motorcycle club has been organized by eight devotees of the wheel and the meetings of the organization are held at 1316 Norwood street, Southeast Brainerd.

At the first election of officers Hilmer A. Wilson was elected president, Art Nykanen, secretary-treasurer. Eight riders are charter members and they include the officers and Art Olson, Oscar Swanson, Chris Peterson, Theodore Miller, William L. Englund and Albert Gronquist.

Wilson rides a five horsepower, two speed Minneapolis motorcycle. Nykanen has a nine horsepower Sears. Art Olson has a three horsepower Wagner and Oscar Swanson a four horsepower Wagner. Chris Peterson and Theodore Miller have four horsepower Harley-Davidsons. William L. Englund is a four horsepower Reading Standard while Albert Gronquist possesses a four horsepower Marsh.

It is estimated there are 18 riders in the city and an effort will be made to have them all join the club. During the summer races will be planned as well as club tours. Pennants will be attached to the machines and visits made to other towns which will have no trouble in ascertaining the identity of the riders when they catch a glimpse of the Brainerd pennants. The club also intends to give occasional dances and thus keep its name before the public in the winter months when riding is not of the best.

The Brainerd Motorcycle club is the first of the kind in Brainerd and it will no doubt be a successful institution.

JOINS CLUB AT ST. LOUIS FEB. 25

From St. Louis the Athletics go to San Antonio, Texas for their Spring Practice

Leslie Bush, who was given a try-out in two games by the Philadelphia Athletics last year, has been signed at a good four figure salary for 1913 by Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics baseball team.

The Brainerd boy will report at St. Louis on February 25th and there meet the team on its way to San Antonio, Texas, where they will take up their spring training practice.

Bush made good in the two games he was tried out last year, making a good showing against Columbus. In playing against New York Bush endeavored to show at once what he could do in all lines and besides pounding the cover off the ball he pitched eight innings. Weakened by heavy batting the New Yorkers fell on to him in the eighth inning and hit him freely.

Connie Mack, in interviews with sporting writers at Milwaukee and other points, professed his faith in Bush and said he was a comer as a pitcher. "I never may be some critic in Brainerd but they should realize that it is a most trying experience to spring a young pitcher from the bushes at the end of a season against a club of experienced players and ask him to fit like a cog in the gearing of the Athletic machine when he had been with them but a few days."

Bush has made good last year or there would have been no contract from Connie Mack this season. Brainerd believes in Bush and the boys here know he will make good. Some day this year, when Bush pitches in Chicago and some holiday will permit it, the fans of Brainerd will take the Brainerd city band and descend upon the "Wind City" and see Bush pitch and win a game. Before and after the game there will be a parade and Chicago will hear all about Brainerd and know this town is on the baseball map. It will be the first time in baseball history that a man had a special train of home folks come to town to see him put the smoke ball across the plate and the Lord knows every Brainerd man will pray that the kid wins.

Bender, a former Brainerd boy, will again pitch with the Athletics and taking it all in all, this town will be some town in the baseball world.

He says he will stand for a square deal on re-appointment and will try to get the best possible district for his constituents. In this same connection we notice that one of Lindbergh's lieutenants at Little Falls broke into print and claimed that Bouck is entitled to no credit for the election of a Little Falls man to a good position in the house. LAXATIVE FOR OLD PEOPLE--'CASCARETS'

What Glasses are to Weak Eyes, Cascarets are to Weak Bowels—a 10c Box will Truly Amaze You

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles. So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tone. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep. —Adv.

BUTTERFLIES IN WINTER

It seemed that the recent cold snap had put a quietus to abnormal occurrences in the high temperature line during this winter season, including such unusual happenings as Dee Holden's live mosquito, J. P. Barney's blue bottle flies which are now so tame they will eat right out of your hands, and the pussycat willows of D. A. Peterson and the foolish cherry tree on the South side which sent up a shower of blossoms in December, but the affluents of spring persists in boring right through the ice on the thermometer and yesterday Miss Islay M. McColl, clerk of county treasurer S. R. Adair, paused a moment as she was sharpening her pencil in Mr. Adair's rotary pencil sharpener, which by the way, the whole court house uses much to the detriment of the keen edged knives in the contraption, but Sam, you know, is too kind a man to object and always smiles, and Miss McColl remarked, "While I was dusting our parlor at home yesterday, what do you suppose flew from the center table? A big butterfly! He stayed in the kitchen later and last night I supposed he might have frozen, but after warming him he woke up again and is now flying around as lively as though it was a June summer day."

County Commissioner John A. Oberg, of Deerwood, who was examining some records in the county treasurer's office at the time, vouched for the story of butterflies in this record breaking winter of 1912-1913 by stating that on a recent hunting trip the Deerwood nimrods of which he was a party, stopped at an old shack on the north range of the Cuyuna and after building a fire in the dugout a cloud of butterflies woke from their winter's lethargy and flew about the hunters. One of the butterflies, overcome by the sudden transition from winter to spring, had fallen dead from surprise or something of the kind, and County Commissioner Oberg picked up the insect, brought it home and has preserved it in the middle of the family Bible where the birth records are placed. Where now, oh winter, is thy sting? Los Angeles, with a climate that freezes lemons to the consistency of a snowball, is not in the same class with a Minnesota winter which allows the hibernating mosquito, the lively blue bottle fly and the gay butterfly to disport themselves among the cherry blossoms and the pussy-willows of Brainerd. Minnesota has a grand, a glorious climate packing every section of the state and Brainerd in particular. Be glad you are alive to enjoy it. Things may be different when you are dead.

A Curious Church.

The most singular church in the world is probably St. John's, at Davos Platz, in Switzerland. Davos Platz is over 5,000 feet above sea level and is famous as a winter resort for consumptives on account of its great purity of air and protection from high winds. St. John's church is a very small building, but nevertheless it has two steeples. One of these is much larger than the other, towering high above the church and presenting a most singular appearance, being twisted after the manner of a corkscrew. The steeples contain some fine chimneys which in ancient times were used to sound the alarm when there was a threatened invasion of wild animals.

CREED IN PARIS.

(The linotype operators threaten a general strike unless they can get a nine hour day, with a daily wage of $1.60—Paris News.)

Why doth the greedy printer balk And swear he's going to strike? A dollar sixty fills his talk, And nine hours he would like.

Why doth the long, long suffering boss Permit such mutterings dire? A lockout might "put one across" On tollers stirred by ire.

Why doth the Paris Labor Press, Which here is seldom seen, Avoid the war which floods, I guess, Each minion magazine?

Why doth the government survey To calm the threatened war? It knows employers cannot pay! What greed is clamoring for! —Brooklyn Eagle

DON'T HURRY.

Do nothing in a hurry. Nature never does. "More haste, worse speed," says the old proverb. If you are in doubt, sleep over it. But, above all, never quarrel in a hurry. Think it over well. Take time. However vexed you may be overnight, things will often look different in the morning. If you have written a clever and conclusive but scathing letter, keep it back till the next day and it will very often never go at all.—Lord Avebury.

Sulphur Bottom Whales. Probably the largest of the whales, as well as the most gigantic of all living creatures, is the sulphur bottom. It attains a length of nearly or quite 100 feet and a weight of 150 tons. One individual measured 95 feet in length, 39 feet in girth, with a jawbone 21 feet long; baleen (whalebone), 4 feet long; weight of baleen, 800 pounds; weight of entire whale, 147 tons, and it yielded 110 barrels of oil. The sulphur bottom seldom bolts, as the whalers term the action of leaping diagonally from the sea, or breaches, as perpendicular springs are called, but when it does perform in this manner it presents a truly wonderful sight.

Perfectly True.

Miss Catt—She has a fine complexion. Miss Nipp—Yes; that's an added attraction.—Lippincott's.

Women and War.

Emotions of the women who remain at home during a war were expressed in an odd fashion in Madrid during the struggle with the United States in the Spanish-American war. The war had never been popular with the people, who saw no reason why blood should be shed for colonies from which only the rich derived benefits. When news of the defeats of the Spanish reached Madrid groups of women used to gather round the statue of Columbus in the Puerta de Sol and hurl opprobrious epithets at him for his folly in having discovered America. And once they even tried to drag Columbus from his pedestal.

Beginning Well.

"Begin your stories well," said an author, talking to a group of literary beginners. "There's nothing like a good beginning. Indeed, it's half the battle." Then, with a smile, this excellent beginner of stories added: "Always bear in mind the case of the young man who, desiring to marry, secured a favorable hearing from his sweetheart's irascible father by opening the interview with the words, 'I know a way, sir, whereby you can save money.'"

APPRECIATION.

Love never seems so clear and easy as when the heart is beating faster at the sight of some generous, self-risking deed. We feel, no doubt, then what is the highest prize the soul can win; we almost believe in our own power to attain it.—George Eliot.

Drives Off a Terror

The chief executioner of death in the winter and spring months is pneumonia. Its advance agents are colds and grip. In any attack by one of these maladies no time should be lost in taking the best medicine obtainable to drive it off. Countless thousands have found this to be Dr. King's New Discovery. "My husband believes it has kept him from having pneumonia three or four times," writes Mrs. George W. Place, Rawsonville, Vt., "and for coughs, colds and croup we have never found its equal." Guaranteed for all bronchial affections. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free at H. P. Dunn's.—Adv.

SEES SISTER KISSED; HE DIES.

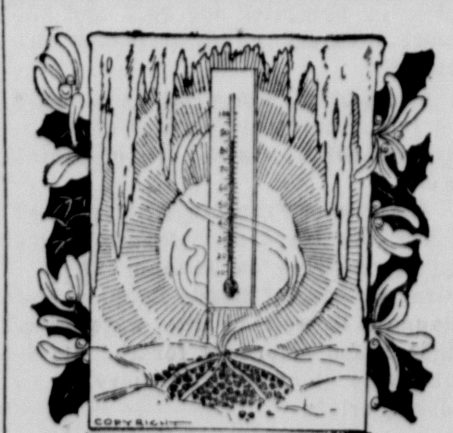

Man Is Overcome With Anger at New Year's Party.

Overcome with amazement and anger because he saw a stranger kiss his sister at a New Year's party, John Albus of New York dropped dead. Albus, with several friends, went to the home of his sister, Mrs. Charles Uhl, and all were having a merry party. Other friends called, and presently some one unknown to Albus put his arm about Mrs. Uhl and kissed her. She resented it, as did Albus, and the man was put out of the apartment. Albus dropped to the floor. The coroner investigated and said death was due to heart disease.

It seemed that the recent cold snap had put a quietus to abnormal occurrences in the high temperature line during this winter season, including such unusual happenings as Dee Holden's live mosquito, J. P. Barney's blue bottle flies which are now so tame they will eat right out of your hands, and the pussycat willows of D. A. Peterson and the foolish cherry tree on the South side which sent up a shower of blossoms in December, but the affluence of spring persists in boring right through the ice on the thermometer and yesterday Miss Islay M. McColl, clerk of county treasurer S. R. Adair, paused a moment as she was sharpening her pencil in Mr. Adair's rotary pencil sharpener, which by the way, the whole court house uses much to the detriment of the keen edged knives in the contraption, but Sam, you know, is too kind a man to object and always smiles, and Miss McColl remarked, "While I was dusting our parlor at home yesterday, what do you suppose flew from the center table? A big butterfly! He stayed in the kitchen later and last night I supposed he might have frozen, but after warming him he woke up again and is now flying around as lively as though it was a June summer day."

County Commissioner John A. Oberg, of Deerwood, who was examining some records in the county treasurer's office at the time, vouched for the story of butterflies in this record breaking winter of 1912-1913 by stating that on a recent hunting trip the Deerwood nimrods of which he was a party, stopped at an old shack on the north range of the Cuyuna and after building a fire in the dugout a cloud of butterflies woke from their winter's lethargy and flew about the hunters. One of the butterflies, overcome by the sudden transition from winter to spring, had fallen dead from surprise or something of the kind, and County Commissioner Oberg picked up the insect, brought it home and has preserved it in the middle of the family Bible where the birth records are placed. Where now, oh winter, is thy sting? Los Angeles, with a climate that freezes lemons to the consistency of a snowball, is not in the same class with a Minnesota winter which allows the hibernating mosquito, the lively blue bottle fly and the gay butterfly to disport themselves among the cherry blossoms and the pussy-willows of Brainerd. Minnesota has a grand, a glorious climate packing every section of the state and Brainerd in particular. Be glad you are alive to enjoy it. Things may be different when you are dead.

A Curious Church.

The most singular church in the world is probably St. John's, at Davos Platz, in Switzerland. Davos Platz is over 5,000 feet above sea level and is famous as a winter resort for consumptives on account of its great purity of air and protection from high winds. St. John's church is a very small building, but nevertheless it has two steeples. One of these is much larger than the other, towering high above the church and presenting a most singular appearance, being twisted after the manner of a corkscrew. The steeples contain some fine chimes, which in ancient times were used to sound the alarm when there was a threatened invasion of wild animals.

GREED IN PARIS.

[The prototype operators threaten a general strike unless they can get a nine hour day, with a daily wage of $1.60.—Paris News.]

Why doth the greedy printer balk And swear he's going to strike? A dollar sixty fills his talk, And nine hours he would like.

Why doth the long, long suffering boss Permit such matters to dire? A lockout might "put one across" On toilers starved by ire.

Why doth the Paris Labor Press, In calm this threatened war? It knows employers cannot pay What greed is clamoring for!

Why doth the government survey In calm this threatened war? It knows employers cannot pay What greed is clamoring for!

DON'T HURRY.

Do nothing in a hurry. Nature never does. "More haste, worse speed," says the old proverb. If you are in doubt, sleep over it. But, above all, never quarrel in a hurry. Think it over well. Take time. However vexed you may be overnight, things will often look different in the morning. If you have written a clever and conclusive but scathing letter, keep it back till the next day and it will very often never go at all.—Lord Avebury.

Sulphur Bottom Whales.

Probably the largest of the whales, as well as the most gigantic of all living creatures, is the sulphur bottom. It attains a length of nearly or quite 100 feet and a weight of 150 tons. One individual measured 95 feet in length, 39 feet in girth, with a jawbone 21 feet long; baleen (whalebone), 4 feet long; weight of baleen, 800 pounds; weight of entire whale, 147 tons, and it yielded 110 barrels of oil. The sulphur bottom seldom bolts, as the whalers term the action of leaping diagonally from the sea, or breaches, as perpendicular springs are called, but when it does perform in this manner it presents a truly wonderful sight.

Perfectly True.

Miss Catt—She has a fine complexion. Miss Nipp—Yes; that's an added attraction.—Lippincott's.

Women and War.

Emotions of the women who remain at home during a war were expressed in an odd fashion in Madrid during the struggle with the United States in the Spanish-American war. The war had never been popular with the people, who saw no reason why blood should be shed for colonies from which only the rich derived benefits. When news of the defeats of the Spanish reached Madrid groups of women used to gather round the statue of Columbus in the Puerta de Sol and hurl opprobrious epithets at him for his folly in having discovered America. And once they even tried to drag Columbus from his pedestal.

Beginning Well.

"Begin your stories well," said an author, talking to a group of literary beginners. "There's nothing like a good beginning. Indeed, it's half the battle." Then, with a smile, this excellent beginner of stories added: "Always bear in mind the case of the young man who, desiring to marry, secured a favorable hearing from his sweetheart's fickle father by opening the interview with the words, 'I know a way, sir, whereby you can save money.'"

APPRECIATION.

Love never seems so clear and easy as when the heart is beating faster at the sight of some generous, self-risking deed. We feel, no doubt, then what is the highest prize the soul can win; we almost believe in our own power to attain it.—George Eliot.

Drives Off a Terror

The chief executioner of death in the winter and spring months is pneumonia. Its advance agents are colds and grip. In any attack by one of these maladies no time should be lost in taking the best medicine obtainable to drive it off. Countless thousands have found this to be Dr. King's New Discovery. "My husband believes it has kept him from having pneumonia three of four times," writes Mrs. George W. Place, Rawsonville, VT., "and for coughs, colds and croup we have never found its equal." Guaranteed for all bronchial affections. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free at H. P. Dunn & Co. Adv.

SEES SISTER KISSED; HE DIES.

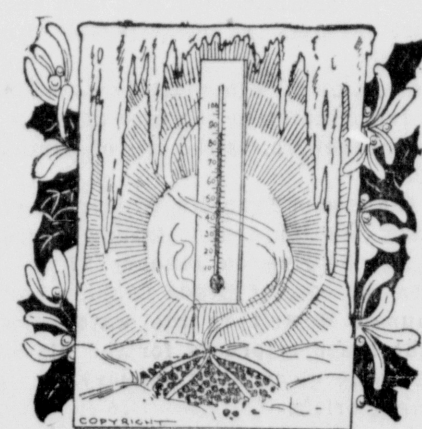

Man Is Overcome With Anger at New Year's Party.

Overcome with amazement and anger because he saw a stranger kiss his sister at a New Year's party, John Albus of New York dropped dead. Albus, with several friends, went to the home of his sister, Mrs. Charles Uhl, and all were having a merry party. Other friends called, and presently some one unknown to Albus put his arm about Mrs. Uhl and kissed her. She resented it, as did Albus, and the man was put out of the apartment. Albus dropped to the floor. The coroner investigated and said death was due to heart disease.

PRINCE NEAR FOOT OF CLASS.

Second Son of King George Next to Last Among Sixty-five Cadets.

Prince Albert, second son of King George, who was born in 1895, stood sixty-fourth in order of merit in a list of sixty-five persons who underwent an examination for naval cadets last month. The newspapers comment on the standing of the prince as evidence of the complete impartiality of the examiners.

COAL

is one of the things that contributes largely to our enjoyment. While it goes up largely in smoke, it leaves behind genial warmth to the occupants of the house.

Cold weather rapidly decreases the coal bin, and if your supply is growing small, better let us replenish it at once. Prices will be no lower and you may have difficulty in securing coal later.
